Subject: KVH Proudly Introduces TracVision® TV10 – The Premier, Lightest 1-meter Marine Satellite TV System with Expanded Global Ku-band HD Reception

KVH is pleased to announce the TracVision TV10, KVH's powerful new Ku-band satellite TV antenna system. It is the world's lightest 1-meter antenna system and delivers unprecedented signal strength and extended coverage for flawless reception of Ku-band SD and HD regional TV services around the world. Featuring advanced inertial-based stabilization and search, and KVH's proprietary RingFire™ technology, the TracVision TV10 provides superior coverage and reception, even in the roughest seas.

TV10 Highlights

- World's lightest 1-meter ultra-high efficiency antenna – 10% lighter than leading competitive antennas
- Seamless access to live news local channels, and TV and movie programming from Ku-band regional satellite TV services throughout the world
- Two LNBS included: A Linear Universal Quad LNB and a Stacked U.S. Circular LNB for Ku-band DISH (HD and SD) and DIRECTV® SD in the U.S.
- Available LNB conversion options – Tri-Americas™ LNB, DIRECTV Latin America, and Sky Mexico
- Innovative belowdeck TV-Hub (does not require rack mount)
- System configurations support multiple receivers with simple onboard integration
- Easy installation using 1-4 cables plus an antenna mounting pattern that matches competing 1-meter systems
- Automatic satellite switching, the fastest satellite acquisition speeds, and Wi-Fi controls via the TracVision TV-Hub
- Preprogrammed worldwide satellite library
- Easy setup and system control with KVH's exclusive TracVision app for iOS®, iPadOS®, and Android™
